

Project Manager Boot Camp

UTCA ACADEMY OF PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT

February 18-19, 2020

About the Program

The basic techniques for managing projects — scheduling, budgeting and cost tracking — are well-known and available from many sources. But to join the ranks of “Best in Class,” your project staff must learn to think and act like business owners with their own money and success at stake.

During this high-level, immersion experience, project managers and staff examine themselves, their organizations and their processes, learning how to transform themselves from talented builders into true construction entrepreneurs.

Who Should Attend?

Anyone interested in developing exceptional project delivery capabilities:

- Project executives
- Project managers
- Project engineers
- Vice presidents
- Estimators, Architects, Engineers

Registration Information

The tuition includes all workbook materials, program instruction and refreshment breaks.

Continental breakfast and lunch included.

Pricing:

$575 for UTCA members

To Register:

Complete attached registration form and email to dan@utcanj.org

Program Topics will include:

The greatest distinction between project managers and entrepreneurs is how much personal stake the individual has in a project's success. While both are self-directed to coordinate talents and resources in order to provide profitable customer service, entrepreneurs consider a project success, a personal success and a project failure, a personal failure. In short, entrepreneurs have a compelling sense of ownership in their work.

Two days of tough, no-nonsense, total immersion into the business of construction will fast-forward all attendees' knowledge, decision-making skills and leadership abilities so they leave the PMBC thinking and acting like construction entrepreneurs for every project.
